
Control what info Google collects

Google collects information from you to provide personalized services and tailored content, as outlined in the Google Privacy Policy.

You can review, delete, and control the information Google collects about you. Learn more from Google about:

- Viewing and controlling what information is collected (search, YouTube, recordings of your voice commands, location).
- Deleting your search history and other activity.
- Reviewing your location history.
- Any other questions about your account.